Course Description

Terrorism and Extremism on Social Media
Introduction

Terrorism and extremists have always relied on the mass media for publicity, psychological warfare, propaganda and political achievements. But then came the Internet. Terrorist groups started using the network to distribute their propaganda, to communicate with their supporters, to foster public awareness of and sympathy for their causes, and even to execute operations. Moreover, terror groups started using social media platforms like Twitter, Facebook, Instagram, YouTube, Gab, 8Chan, Telegram and even TikTok to spread their messages, recruit members and gather intelligence. This course examines the relationships between modern terrorists and extremist groups and the new online platforms, how terrorists use theses online channels, how democracies can respond to the challenge, and what are the prices of various measures.

Online Course format

Since the course will be held online it was reformatted to fit the online design. All the material including the PowerPoint presentations, video clips, reading material, notes, assignments' guidance, etc. – will be posted online.

Virtual attendance will be checked in every online lesson (on Zoom). You will be required to keep your camera open.

Both the lecturer and the TA will be accessible online by emails and will respond to every question or comment. So do not hesitate to write us. The lecturer will have open “office hour” after class so if you want to chat, ask or react in a virtual face to face mode, just stay on Zoom after the class is over.

Please note this warning: This course, on terrorism and violent extremism, involves unpleasant and even gruesome material.
