

Dr. Roy Shalem – Short CV

Education

2010	Tel-Aviv University, Israel	PhD, Economics
2007	Northwestern University, USA	Fulbright Visiting Scholar
2002	Tel-Aviv University, Israel	MA, Financial Economics (Magna cum Laude)
1998	Tel-Aviv University, Israel	BA, Economics & Management (Magna cum Laude)

Academic Experience

- [2010 - 2013] Lecturer in the Faculty of Management in Tel-Aviv University in the course "Industrial Organization" for MBA students.
- [2012 - 2013] Lecturer in the Faculty of Economics in Interdisciplinary Center (IDC) Herzliya in the course "Micro-Economic Policy" for BA students.
- [2011] Lecturer in the School of Economics in Tel-Aviv University in the course "Topics in Applied Economics" for BA students.
- [2006 - 2009] Research Assistant for Prof. Yossi Spiegel & Prof. Konrad Stahl.
- [2002 - 2007] Teaching Assistant in Tel-Aviv University in various courses: "Game-Theory and Information Economics", "Micro-Economic Policy", "Accounting for Economists", "Topics in the Economics of Israel", "Advanced Financial Management".
- [2000] Teaching Assistant in Tel-Aviv College in the course "Production Planning & Control".

Professional Experience

- [2012 - now] Co-founder of Numerics Economic & Financial Consulting LTD., which specializes in complex issues in the fields of Economics, Finance and Accounting.
- [2009 - 2012] Manager and Head of Applied Economics Department at Giza Singer Even, which specializes in Economic and Financial consulting. Head of a team of economists. In charge of Antitrust & Regulation, expert opinion letters for court. Specializing in:
- Economic analysis of competition and regulation.
 - Financial valuation of firms and projects.
 - Pricing of complex derivatives and securities
 - Economic and Financial expert opinion letters for court.
 - Risk Management and financial model validation.
 - Game-theory applications for business, including tenders' analysis.
- [2000 - 2005] Officer of Economic analysis & budget control in the Israeli Defense Force (IDF). Decoration of Excellence in military service by a Major-General.
- [1999 - 2000] Head of financial software development team at RELS Advanced Technologies Ltd.