Adi Feld, MS

Senior Group Facilitator, Head of Certificate Studies

Adi is an organizational psychologist, lecturer, and facilitator of personal and organizational development processes. She holds an M.S. in organizational psychology from Baruch College, City University of New York, and a law degree (LL.B + BA) from Reichman University, and is a certified attorney.
Since the Maytiv Center was founded at Reichman University in 2010, Adi has served as a senior lecturer in positive psychology for diverse audiences in Israel and abroad — students, teachers, principals, judges, senior management, and organizational employees — as well as for the general public in certificate studies.
