Iraq's Future – Independent or an Iranian Sphere of Influence?

Amatzia Baram

May 2018

Main questions:

1. Is Iraq heading for a period of non-governability due to expected difficulties in building coalition?
 2. Can Shii politicians attract Sunni voters? Does Allawi have any chance?
 3. Would the economic situation weigh over Iraq's future?
 4. Will the new government be able/ready to spend enough resources on reconstruction and jobs to keep the Sunnis reasonably happy?
 5. Can ISIS rise again from the ashes?
 6. Are the tribes-Sunni and Shii – still relevant?
 7. Is Iraq anticipating a political change when the old generation of politicians disappears and a younger generation of native Iraqis take over?
 8. How will Iraq be 10 years from now?
 9. Can Iraq be a normal state in the sense of a functioning parliamentary democracy based on a civil pact and a sound national identity, providing security and wellbeing to its population?
 10. What are the goals of Iranian policy in Iraq? If they have goals...
