SCHOOL OF SUSTAINABILITY FOUNDED BY ISRAEL CORP., ICL & ORL

The Sustainability-Government double major degree offers a new, updated academic program that is relevant in the post-Covid era, considering the global commitment to ambitious climate action. It focuses on major changes that have occurred in the fields of economics, politics, and the environment in Israel, the Middle East, and around the world. The curriculum teaches aspects of policy and decision-making that balance environmental, social, and economic issues within the international arena, and imparts a deep understanding of global environmental issues. These include water shortages, clean energy, and climate change, as well as national security considerations.

The double major puts a strong emphasis on entrepreneurial skills and practical tools needed in the public and private sectors. It offers graduates an advantage when seeking jobs in a wide range of fields related to sustainability.

Sample Courses

Sustainability: Introduction to Sustainability; Urban Sustainability; Sustainable Energy; Sustainability and Water Resource Management; The Future of Food; Introduction to Green Entrepreneurship; Technology, Big Data and Climate Change; Smart Mobility

Government: International Politics; Conflict Resolution; International Law

Practical Experience

In their final year of studies, students have the opportunity to experience hands-on project development, by working on a capstone project. Small groups focus on solving a real-life sustainability issue. They can do this by developing a mobile app, founding a startup company, writing a policy paper, or coming up with an original idea to take on the issue.

Internships

Internships are offered to select students at environmental NGOs, clean-tech companies, and startups.
