S. Daniel Abraham Center for Middle East Peace

The S. Daniel Abraham Center for Middle East Peace works with leaders and policymakers in the United States and the Middle East to help reach a just and comprehensive peace that will bring an end to the Arab-Israeli conflict. As President Obama, Secretary of State Clinton, and Senator Mitchell work to further negotiations and help resolve the Arab-Israeli conflict, the Center is focusing our efforts to facilitate conversations that bridge differences between the parties. The Center was established in 1989 by Slim Fast Foods Chairman S. Daniel Abraham and Utah Congressman Wayne Owens. In January 2010 the Honorable Robert Wexler became the President of the Center after having served as a member of Congress for seven terms.

Vladimir Gusinski

Vladimir Gusinski established in 1993, one of the first Russian-American joint ventures called “Most” to support major American companies entering the former Soviet markets. In 1993 Mr. Gusinski founded the Media Most Group, the first independent and the largest privately owned media group in Russia. Under the management of Mr. Gusinski “NTV” became the second largest channel in Russia. Mr. Gusinski is the controlling partner in various international TV channels in Russian language, including RTVI channel and others. Mr. Gusinski owns a leading news website in Russian language, newsru.com, operating in Russia, Israel, and Ukraine. Mr. Gusinski is also one of the largest producers of original television content in Russian language.

Euro-Asian Jewish Congress

The Euro-Asian Jewish Congress has been created to defend the rights and legitimate interests of the Jewish people, to aid in satisfying community interests and demands, and also to represent Jewish communities of countries in the Euro-Asian region in the governments of their respective countries and international organizations. For these purposes, the Euro-Asian Jewish Congress works with organizations and unions which represent the Jewish communities of countries in the region. The idea for the Euro-Asian Jewish Congress appeared as 1991, when the Jewish community of the Soviet Union joined the World Jewish Congress.

Susan G. Komen for the Cure®

Nancy G. Brinker promised her dying sister, Susan G. Komen, she would do everything in her power to end breast cancer forever. In 1982, that promise became Susan G. Komen for the Cure and launched the global breast cancer movement. Today, Komen for the Cure is the world's largest grassroots network of breast cancer survivors and activists fighting to save lives, empower people, ensure quality care for all and energize science to find the cures. Thanks to events like the Komen Race for the Cure®, we have invested nearly $1.5 billion to fulfill our promise, becoming the largest source of nonprofit funds dedicated to the fight against breast cancer in the world. For more information about Susan G. Komen for the Cure, breast health or breast cancer, visit www.komen.org.
