

Application and Admissions Regulations

Life Sciences Core Courses Program 2026–2027

1. Application Period

February 1, 2026 – August 31, 2026

An applicant will be considered a “candidate” for studies as of the date on which all required information, grade transcripts, and supporting documents been submitted to Reichman University. At this stage only, the application will be reviewed in accordance with the admission requirements, subject to availability and the approval of the Admissions Committee.

2. Application Fee

Application fee – 100 US$.

The application fee is charged at the end of the online application process

click here to register

The registration fee covers the cost of administrative processing and evaluation of the application and is non-refundable, even in the event of withdrawal of an application for any reason.

3. Application Process

- Applicants who do not submit all required documents at the time of their application and intend to provide them at a later stage must notify the Admissions Office in writing.
- In any event, all the required documentation must be submitted to the Admissions Office no later than the end of the application period, as stated above.
- Applications submitted with copies rather than original certificates will be reviewed based on the documents provided. Applicants who are approved for admission must submit all original certificates by September 24, 2026. Failure to submit the outstanding original documents, proof of degree eligibility and a complete final transcript (if available), by the stated deadline will be considered a withdrawal of the application.
- Upon receipt of the application documents, the University will issue a confirmation to the applicant indicating either that all the required documents have been received in full or provide a detailed list of missing documents and the deadline for their submission. Applications with incomplete documentation will be considered subject to the availability of places.
- The confirmation notice will include the applicant’s information as recorded at the time of registration. Applicants are responsible for verifying the accuracy of this information. Any discrepancies must be reported in writing to the Admissions Office within two days of receipt of the confirmation.

- Original certificates and official documents must be submitted to the Admissions Office by one of the following methods:
 - Official document signed and stamped by the issuing institution.
 - Documents certified with a digital signature by the academic institution from which the applicant earned their undergraduate degree.
 - Direct submission of the documents by the academic institution via email to Reichman University.
 - Notarized photocopies accompanied by a notarized certification.

Original documents sent by registered mail will be returned to the applicant by regular mail upon request and at the applicant's responsibility.

4. Applicants with Foreign Academic Credentials:

- Applicants holding academic credentials from institutions outside Israel are subject to the same admission requirements, with necessary adjustments.
- Credentials will be evaluated by Reichman University, and admission decisions will be made by a designated Admissions Committee.
Documents in languages other than English must be accompanied by a notarized Hebrew translation.

5. Required Application Documents

Applicants to the Life Sciences Core Courses Program must submit:

- An original certificate of eligibility for an undergraduate degree, if available, and, where applicable, certificates for additional degrees (M.A. and Ph.D.), including a complete academic transcript and final grade average.
- Applicants who have not yet completed an undergraduate degree must submit official current transcripts by the application deadline.
- CV / Resume
- Photocopy of I.D. / Passport

6. Admissions Process for the Life Sciences Core Courses Program

Admission is based on an evaluation of the applicant's submitted academic data: Undergraduate academic grades and grades from additional degrees, where applicable.

The Admissions Committee reserves the right to introduce additional selection stages as deemed necessary.

The admissions process is conducted in full compliance with the principle of equal opportunity, without discrimination between applicants based on race, gender, religion, or nationality.

Applicants admitted to the program will be required to pay a deposit toward tuition to complete the admission process. Payment of the deposit constitutes a commitment to commence studies at Reichman University in the upcoming academic year and acceptance of the provisions of the Tuition Fee Regulations.

Applicants admitted to the program who fail to complete registration requirements, including submission of proof of eligibility for an undergraduate degree, original certificates, and payment of the required deposit by the deadline specified on the payment voucher, will be regarded as having forfeited their place in the program, which will be offered to candidates on the waiting list.

Eligibility Requirements for Application to the Life Sciences Core Courses Program

Undergraduate studies at a recognized academic institution in Israel (graduates or students currently enrolled in an undergraduate program are eligible to apply).

*Please note that application to the four-year medical program requires a minimum undergraduate grade point average of 80.

*Each program's Admissions Committee reserves the right to revoke admission of a student who fails to meet the admission requirements.

7. Tuition Fees for the Life Sciences Core Courses Program

- Tuition for the program is 18,500US$¹ and includes:
 - seven core courses
 - preparation for the Knowledge Exam
 - an intensive Hebrew ulpan course
- Tuition for the program that excludes the Hebrew Ulpan is 14,000US$.
- Tuition for individual courses (for Reichman University undergraduate students), the cost of each course is calculated at 550 US$ per credit point.

The deposit for the Life Sciences Core Courses Program studies is 3000 US$.

8. Payment Options

- A. Cash rate – single payment by bank transfer, check, or credit card*, payable by the opening of the academic year.
- B. Installment plan – payment via standing order, bank transfer, credit card, or checks; up to four installments (November–February).

* Credit card payments may be split into 3–18 credit installments

 Installment plans are subject to interest and handling fees

9. Cessation of Studies

Students who paid a deposit for the 2026–2027 academic year and decided to cancel or discontinue their studies must notify the Admissions Office in writing via email. Students are responsible for confirming receipt of their notice.

To clarify – telephone notification is not valid. Only written notice received by the Admissions Office will be considered valid for this purpose. Notice of cancellation/cessation of studies at any time voids eligibility for any scholarship or discount applied to the student's account.

10. Cessation of studies by the student or by Reichman University

The payment required according to the date of notice of cancellation / cessation of studies:

1. By August 1, 2026 – Full refund of the deposit.
2. August 2, 2026 – August 18, 2026: payment of 25% of the deposit.
3. August 19, 2026 – September 6, 2026: payment of 50% of the deposit.
4. September 7, 2026 – October 18, 2026: payment of 100% of the deposit.

¹ A 10% discount is granted to Reichman University alumni.

5. October 19, 2026 – December 28, 2026: payment of 50% of tuition.
6. December 29, 2026 – February 25, 2027: payment of 66% of tuition.
7. From February 26, 2027, onward: payment of 100% of tuition.

*Opening of the program is contingent upon a minimum number of registered students.

*Admission to this program is neither a commitment nor guarantee of admission to the School of Medicine. Graduates of the program will be required to undergo the School of Medicine's selection and admissions process.

*The Council for Higher Education has approved the establishment of the four-year medical program at Reichman University; awarding of the degree is subject to its final approval.

11. Reichman University Decision Not to Open the Program

Completion of the registration process, including payment of tuition fees, does not guarantee that the program will open or be offered.

Reichman University reserves the right, at its sole discretion and at any time, to decide not to open the program, for academic reasons and/or due to insufficient enrollment. In the event that Reichman University does not open the program, all registration fees and tuition fees paid by the student will be refunded in full.

12. Learning Disabilities, Assessments, Students with Disabilities, and Accessibility Accommodations

The University's requirements and procedures for students with disabilities are set out in the Academic Regulations and are updated periodically on the website of the Dean of Student Affairs. In the event of any discrepancy, the regulations as they appear on the Dean of Student Affairs website prevail. The forms on the website are revised on occasion, and when submitting a request for accommodations the requirements are according to those that apply at the time.

For the contact details of the Accessibility Coordinator at Reichman University, please visit the Accessibility Center website.

The Accessibility Center can be reached by phone at: +972-9-9602738 or by email: negishut@runi.ac.il

Accessible formats of the Academic Regulations are available upon request through the Accessibility Center via email: negishut@runi.ac.il

Assistance with completing forms, e.g., having a form read aloud or providing an enlarged version of a form, is available upon request via email: negishut@runi.ac.il

- Learning Disabilities / Attention Disorders

Students with learning disabilities and/or attention disorders are required to submit a MATAL diagnosis \(Learning Functions Evaluation System\); these assessments are conducted at MATAL centers across Israel.

Requests for accommodations must be submitted exclusively through the student's personal portal (MyRUNI) under the "Learning Disabilities Accommodations" icon. Applicants should complete the online form and attach the relevant documentation. In exceptional cases, a MATAL assessment may not be required. It is the responsibility of the student to carefully review the guidelines on the Reichman University Psychological Services website and act in accordance.

Applicants are advised to review MATAL eligibility criteria in advance, and it is recommended to apply for a MATAL assessment as soon as possible due to the high demand at MATAL centers, which provide services to the entire student population in Israel.

For additional information, students may contact the Psychological Counseling Services Center at hatamot@runi.ac.il or by phone at +972-9-9602872. Sensitive information should not be sent via email.

Students returning to Reichman University and were previously eligible for exam accommodations should notify the Examinations Department via email bhinot@runi.ac.il in order to renew their eligibility for accommodations.

For inquiries regarding psychological support, please see the information on the Psychological Services website or contact psyhelp@runi.ac.il

- Medical Disabilities

Students requesting accessibility accommodations for medical disabilities (physical or sensory) must submit a request along with supporting medical documentation from the relevant specialist physicians. All accommodation requests should be submitted before the start of the academic year through the Applicant Information Station.

Students should carefully review the procedure for submitting accommodation requests and follow it accordingly. Detailed guidelines are available on the University's Accessibility Center website.